Will do. If it gets picked up by the Idaho State Journal or another paper of wider distribution, we might want to do that. FMC claimed they knew nothing about it and weren't contacted. BTW, when Valley Wide and FMC came to meet with us in December to "announce" the deal, a representative from Power County came with them. This is a very important project for the County b/c it will mean long-term tax revenue.

Thanks Beth. Keep us posted. They clearly want to make it appear that we are slowing the project down, so we may need to respond with the health and environment messages (if these types of stories continue.

Hi, Marianne and Suzanne. FMC provided the attached article which ran in the Power County Press (a very small local paper). We are continuing to work with FMC to resolve issues related to the remedial design and construction activities in the area Valley is redeveloping. We think the issues are resolvable. Jonathan is tentatively planning to be out at the site the first week of March for what we hope is the pre-construction meeting.

Let me know if you have any questions/concerns.

Dear Beth,

Attached is a copy of an article that appeared in yesterday's Power County Press. This came as a surprise to me as we had not been contacted by the paper, or advised of the Valley interview. My impression is that Valley is relatively overwhelmed by all the requirements associated with developing on a Superfund site...

Best,
Liz
